

North West Regional Construction Awards 2011 Shortlist Announced
The Centre for Construction Innovation reveals the shortlist for the annual North West Regional Construction Awards.

After a wonderful response to the call for nominations and some rigorous examination by our eminent judging panel, we are delighted to announce the projects and organisations that have been shortlisted for the prestigious North West Regional Construction Awards.

From over 100 nominations, 26 have been shortlisted across twelve categories including Sustainability, Business

Innovation and Project of the Year. The winners will be unveiled at a lavish Awards Ceremony at Chester Racecourse on Thursday 26 May 2011.

Roy Stewart, CEO & Operations Director of the Centre for Construction Innovation, said: “The calibre and range of entries gets better year on year, the previous four years have been a huge success; with past winners going on to achieve national accolades. I have no doubt that this year’s awards will, once again, prove that the North West stands at the forefront of the construction industry”.

Local Economic Awards

This year we have decided to change the regional Construction Best Practice Club Awards to the Local Economic Awards to mirror the change in Government thinking to "Localism". With this in mind, and to ensure that local people choose their own local winners, we have asked the regional Best Practice Clubs to judge the applications from their region to decide which of them is their best project.

There will be no shortlist for this category; the winners will be announced at the Awards Ceremony.

Tickets for the Awards Ceremony are now on sale

Tickets cost £120.00 plus VAT per person.
